

CTH AVIATION
Soar Across Africa

Operating since 2006 from Cape Town International Airport, Alyd Air (trading as Cape Town Aviation) is a seasoned charter provider with a fully integrated service model. The company manages its own hangar, maintenance facilities, fueling, and catering, ensuring a seamless experience overseen by an expert in-house team. Their primary mission is to connect Cape Town to premier safari destinations across the Eastern Cape, Kruger, Botswana, and throughout the African continent, serving both corporate travelers and families.

The fleet is anchored by a Learjet 45XR, three King Air 200s, and access to Pilatus 12 aircraft to suit diverse requirements. Cape Town Aviation prides itself on a personalised, "quote-by-request" approach, allowing their experienced team to work closely with clients to craft the most efficient, cost-effective, and accurate flight itineraries possible.
