REMOTE, PRISTINE, ENCHANTING

Situated in the heart of the Indian Ocean, Blue Safari Seychelles pioneers a new style of experiential travel while actively conserving this pristine region.

Overlooking picture-perfect beaches, fringed by tropical foliage and with not another soul in sight, each of the Blue Safari atolls' lodges are wonderfully individual and completely immersed in the natural surroundings of the Outer Islands.

The heart of the operations, Alphonse Island features a beautiful lodge and is an hours flight from Mahe. From here you access the even more remote Astove Coral House and Cosmoledo Eco-camp on the far western atolls.

The Impact of Your Stay

Blue Safari works together with various partners to pioneer conservation in the outer islands. Their philosophy is to promote the biome's conservation in harmony with low impact human development and ecotourism.

Every stay contributes through:

- Paying US$ 30 per person per night to the Island Conservation Society (ICS).
- Supporting ICS ensures key aspects of the ecosystem are well maintained and cared for. Without their sound knowledge, the ecosystem on the atoll would not be what it is today.
- Getting involved with the ICS team through activities such as turtle patrol, beach clean ups, giant tortoise feeding, monitoring of sea birds and waders, monitoring manta rays and removing Fish Aggregating Devices (FADs) from the ocean
- Practising sustainable fishing practices through recording fish caught for consumption and monitoring species on a catch & release basis, as well as supporting the Giant Trevally Tracking project.
- Attending the weekly ICS presentation which provides progress updates and discussion of environmental topics.
- Purchasing books, souvenirs and T-shirts from the ICS centre or the Alphonse Boutique, with the proceeds providing further financial support to the conservation efforts.
